

Habitat Bucks Prepares to Significantly Grow Impact throughout Bucks County
Chalfont ReStore relocating to Warminster; expanding to become one of the largest ReStores in the country.

Warminster/Chalfont, PA (April 6, 2021) -- Habitat for Humanity of Bucks County will be moving their offices and relocating the Chalfont Habitat ReStore to 539 Jacksonville Road, Warminster –and doubling its size! A Grand Opening is anticipated early summer 2021.

ReStore sales over the years have greatly contributed to Habitat’s affordable homeownership and home repair programs, but it has also taken on an identity throughout the community in so many different ways. To name a few, the ReStore provides opportunities for students, corporate groups, faith communities, and diverse learner populations to volunteer their time to serve the community. The ReStore program also provides a second life for items that would have otherwise been destined to end up in landfills. Very importantly, ReStore partners with social service agencies to support low-income families in need of basic household items.

“The Chalfont ReStore has built a huge, loyal following. It is with gratitude to the local community for embracing our mission, and a determined heart to positively impact communities throughout Bucks County, that we set our sights on the future growth of the program,” shared BJ Breish, Habitat Bucks Restore Director. “We are looking forward to partnering with local residents, businesses and developments who can support our efforts to keep material out of landfills by donating goods to the new Warminster ReStore.”

“Now more than ever the cost of a decent place to live is even further out of reach for some of our neighbors,” said Florence Kawoczka, Executive Director of Habitat for Humanity, Bucks County. “Our ReStores serve Habitat’s mission to make homes and home repairs affordable for lower income residents.”
